

KASH Analysis

This tool is great to help you identify gaps from where you are now to where you want to be.

Thinking of your aspirational goal, what knowledge have you got versus what you need?

What's your current attitude and how is this demonstrated? Is this the attitude that you need to continue with or change to enable success?

What skills do you have versus the skills you need to develop?

What habits do you have versus the habits you need to develop?

You may want to consider using the GROW model after you have completed this exercise or reach out to explore your GAP analysis to strategically plan your next leadership opportunity.
